

Press Release – Immediate

The Press Council of Ireland and the Office of the Press Ombudsman wish to express their condolences to the family of Paul Drury. Paul served as a member of the Press Council of Ireland since 2011. He was a much respected member and his wisdom and experience will be missed by the Council. He had a deep understanding of Irish society, and a passion for journalism. His contributions to the Press Council were always independent and fair. He will also be missed as a caring colleague and friend.

Ar dheis Dé go raibh a anam dilis.
